

Monthly Report

Artist Dallas Cole visited her sculpture wall mural "The Library Is a Garden of the Mind" on the Children's patio in March.

From the Director

The library's 3rd annual Tiny Art Show went on display. This year's show featured over 150 3"x3" canvas artworks created by local artists of all ages, from toddlers through adults. During March, the public voted on their favorite artworks for each age category; the winning artworks will be on display in April.

Also in March, mosaic artist Dallas Cole visited the library with a group of residents from Mary's Woods to view her wall sculpture mural "The Library Is a Garden of the Mind," located along the Children's patio. The mural incorporates themes from classic literature, including scenes from "The Odyssey" and beloved children's stories like "Mother Goose". It was a beautiful day to view the outdoor mural and share it with guests.

Children's Services

Terrific Trees presented by Rick Reynolds

Families celebrated trees and springtime at this special event held at the Grove Shelter in Memorial Park on Mar. 22. Participants observed magnified artifacts from all stages of tree life cycles, then embarked on a tree scavenger hunt to discover different types of trees, ways wildlife use them as habitat, and how trees help us. The event ended with a tree art activity.

Music Class with Heart Strings Mandarin

Heart Strings Mandarin shared a variety of instruments, told stories, and taught some Mandarin language to the audience of young children with their parents on Mar. 29.
