heARTs of Wilsonville:

MANY CULTURES, ONE HEART PUBLIC ART PROJECT

Have you had a chance to discover all 10 hearts around Wilsonville? Each heart sculpture was painted with a unique design by different local artists and have been installed in City parks and near City facilities since May 2025.

In February 2026, a select few hearts will be up for auction utilizing an online auction website. Funds generated by any heart sales will help off-set costs of future arts and culture programming.

This is your last chance to see this amazing public art project which was made possible by the Arts, Culture, and Heritage Commission and funded by the Wilsonville-Metro Community Enhancement funds.

For information about the upcoming auction, as well as a map where to find all 10 hearts while they're still installed visit: www.wilsonvilleoregon.gov/public-art.
